PROMOTING OUR EFFORTS

Do you know what to say when someone asks, "what's that HWPP thing all about?" If not, no worries. With special thanks to the Racine County marketing department (Thank you, Kimberly & Val), we have some great resources that you can use to help promote our project.

Next time someone asks you about HWPP, you can say:

"Check out the web page at www.racinecounty.com/hwpp."

OR

“Check out our cool fact sheet and postcard!” You’ll find them attached to this email.

RACINE UNIFIED SCHOOL LEADERS FEATURED IN WEBINAR

This school year Racine Unified School District has been measuring students’ social emotional competencies using the Panorama survey of social emotional learning (SEL). School leaders across the country are looking to incorporate SEL practices and measurement tools into their districts. On April 12th at 1:00 pm CT, our very own Deputy Superintendent, Dr. Eric Gallien and Director of Student Support, Andrea Rittgers will be featured with leaders from two other districts to share their vision for SEL and how schools are using Panorama data in Racine. AWESOME!

Reserve your spot for the webinar here Registration for Panorama webinar

RACINE & 2018 WPHA CONFERENCE

On May 23rd Project Coordinator, Jackie Hartley, will be presenting a session entitled “Coalitions (are a lot of) Work! Lessons in what it takes to enact collaborative change in three Wisconsin communities”. This presentation is a joint effort between HWPP award recipients from Milwaukee, Southwest Wisconsin and Racine. The presentation will discuss the life cycle of a coalition, and how each of our community coalitions are working collaboratively to improve behavioral health.
