RACINE COUNTY SEEKING OWNERS OF UNCLAIMED FUNDS
Treasurer's Office has nearly $120,000; deadline to claim is August 8

Racine – Racine County Treasurer Jane Nikolai is asking for the assistance of Racine County residents to help locate the owners of nearly $120,000 in unclaimed funds.

The funds are turned over to the County Treasurer's Office from municipalities and county departments. Some examples of unclaimed funds include jury duty payments, bail money, overpayment refunds and vendor payments.

"I am making every effort to try to reach the public about these unclaimed funds," Nikolai said. "The money belongs to the people. I continue to explore new ways to reach people so I can return their money to them."

A full list of owners of unclaimed funds, as well as the claim form and instructions, can be found by clicking the "unclaimed funds" tab at racinecounty.com/government/county-treasurer. A printed copy of the listing and claim forms are also available at the Racine County Treasurer's Office, located on the first floor of the Racine County Courthouse, 730 Wisconsin Ave., as well as at Burlington City Hall, 300 N. Pine St.

The deadline for claiming the funds is August 8, 2019. A legal notice was published January 25, 2019, in The Journal Times.

Anyone with questions is encouraged to call the Racine County Treasurer's Office at (262) 636-3339, email RCTreasurer@racinecounty.com or visit the Treasurer's Office at the Racine County Courthouse. The Treasurer's Office is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.
